

ONE PIECE TOP LOCK MECH SEATING NIPPLE

APPLICATIONS

- Wells with steel sucker rods.
- Wells with top lock mechanical hold down pumps.
- Wells with high solid environments for potentially stuck pumps.

BENEFITS & FEATURES

- One piece top lock mechanical seating nipple.
- Special treatment on the ID for high wear resistance surface.
- Pressure tested for 6000 psi.
- No assembly required.
- Less number of parts reduces chances of failure.
- Available in steel and stainless steel.

The Ellis one piece top lock mechanical seating nipple is used with top lock mechanical hold down pumps. It is ideal for well bores with high sandy environment and high well bore temperature. One piece seating nipple replaces traditional 3 piece top lock mechanical seating nipple, it eliminates the need for assembly and reduces chances of failure with multiple parts.

Ellis one piece top lock mechanical seating nipple has a wear resistance surface on the ID. Special surface treatment is used for both alloy steel and stainless steel version. It increases the life and reduces fluid leak when the pump is set and unset multiple times.

High quality machining processes adopted at Ellis Manufacturing allows us to maintain extremely close tolerances and produce components with smooth surface finishes and chatter free threads.
